Uitrusting

There are few cars that straddle the line between the track and the public road as perfectly as the 991 GT3 RS.

With its naturally aspirated 4.0L six-cylinder engine and that unmistakable wail at 8,800 rpm, this example offers a driving experience like no other.

Although its 0-100 km/h sprint in just 3.3 seconds (and a top speed of 310 km/h) is very impressive, the real magic lies in its handling. Thanks to the downforce and immense G-forces this RS can generate, it carves through every corner with improbable speeds and surgical precision.

Furthermore, the front of the car is equipped with PPF paint protection film and it has a complete service history from the brand dealer.
